

Customer

Senior IT Leaders

at a global microchip manufacturer

Situation

A recent merger & acquisition drove the customer need to consolidate major data centers.

Customer Need

The customer needed an experienced full-service provider, to own all aspects of a data center consolidation, including assessments, planning and coordination.

Additionally, it was critical that the provider be able to resolve any equipment issues immediately to meet service restoration commitments.

Curvature Solution

Curvature's Professional Services team fully managed the consolidation from end-to-end. Curvature also disposed of unneeded equipment resulting from the customer's consolidation.

Results

The customer met all critical objectives for the consolidation and continues to partner with Curvature for their IT support needs.
