CURVATURE

New Data Center Solutions from Arista Networks

Curvature offers best-of-breed data center and cloud networking products from Arista Networks. As a Global Elite Partner in the Arista Networks Channel Partner Program, Curvature combines cutting-edge technology with quality, speed and cost savings on the complete line of Arista 1/10/40/100 GbE switches, accessories and maintenance services. At the best possible prices.

The Curvature Advantage:

- Complete solutions, lowest cost: Lower your total cost of ownership by combining new Arista equipment with pre-owned and Curvature-branded products and services.
- Service delivery: Direct access to Arista's complete line of cloud networking and high-performance data center products. Curvature stocks equipment in three distribution centers located in North America, Europe and Asia, enabling products to ship to every major city in the world in a matter of days.
- Proof of concept: Demo Arista gear before making a purchase. Curvature has Arista units available to test out.
- Technical expertise: Equipped with a complete demonstration and testing lab on site, Curvature's Arista-certified engineers are trained to provide your data center with world-class support.

Technology for high-performance data centers

Known for low power consumption and high-density switching, Arista technology is unmatched. Arista equipment is engineered to support demanding data center environments.

Common applications

Arista products are optimized for applications such as data center virtualization, Ethernet-based storage, high-performance computing environments, latency-sensitive applications, data center aggregation, private and public clouds and SPAN/TAP aggregation in software-defined networks.
